Chavi is one half of the creators of Team Diva Real Estate with her ever fabulous wife Kim. Together the two of created a forward thinking and socially progressive real estate team that puts community first in all aspects of their business. Chavi and the team have spoken at numerous real estate conferences about their marketing prowess. And they have received numerous recognitions for their marketing, social media, and political activism. When Chavi is not managing the team and working her Diva Dwellers you can find her wrestling her two adopted mutts on epic dog walks through Seward Park. And yes the Diva Dogs have their own Instagram account @divadogsseattle #divadoglife.

ED WEINSTEIN
Founding Principal, Weinstein A+U

Ed Weinstein in an award-winning architect who has practiced in Seattle for 45 years. He is the founding principal and design lead of Weinstein A+U. Under his direction, the firm’s portfolio includes a diverse range of projects including civic, institutional, commercial, adaptive reuse, mixed-use, and multi-family housing. Ed is recognized as one of our region’s leading designers. His firm has received 66 Seattle Chapter, Northwest and Pacific Region, and National AIA Design Awards. He is a Fellow of the AIA and received the AIA Seattle Medal of Honor, the region’s highest recognition for lifetime achievement in Architecture. Weinstein A+U’s urban housing projects range in scale from infill townhouses to high-rise apartment towers, with a special expertise in the design of “five-over-one” mixed-use projects. These projects have earned numerous design awards and have been utilized as positive exemplars for Seattle’s Design Review program.

RICK MOHLER
Principal, Mohler + Ghillino Architects

Rick Mohler, AIA, is a Seattle-based practicing architect, educator and activist interested in the nexus between urban housing, transportation and the public realm. He pursues this interest through practice, teaching, research and advocacy. He is an Associate Professor of Architecture and Graduate Program Coordinator at the University of Washington, a principal of Mohler + Ghillino Architects, a 2016 Fellow of the UW Runstad Center for Real Estate Studies and a co-chair of the AIA Seattle Public Policy Board and member of its Board of Directors. Rick is also a founding member of Welcoming Wallingford, a grass roots citizen coalition focused on advancing housing affordability and equity in the Wallingford neighborhood and beyond. He has been actively engaged in Seattle’s housing affordability discussion through presentations, panel discussions and editorial writing.

ROB JOHNSON
Councilman - District 4, Seattle

A 5th generation Seattle resident, father, urban planner, and long-time transportation advocate, Rob is proud to represent Northeast Seattle’s District 4 as the first district-based City Councilmember. Professionally, Rob spent 10 years working for Transportation Choices Coalition (a statewide nonprofit dedicated to expanding multi-modal transportation infrastructure), serving as Executive Director from 2008 to 2015. During that time he led campaigns that have raised hundreds of millions of dollars to improve mobility in our city, county, and state - including the expansion of light rail to Northeast Seattle with three stations in District 4.

SARAH ANNE LLOYD, MODERATOR
Editor, Curbed Seattle

Sarah Anne Lloyd is a lifelong Pacific Northwesterner and editor of Curbed Seattle. When she’s not digging deep into Seattle’s growth, she enjoys taking care of plants and cats. Her work has appeared in The Seattle Weekly, The Stranger, KNKX, Parentmap, and others.
